MALINOSKI JOINS BISSO MARINE

HOUSTON (Oct. 23, 2009) – BISSO MARINE, a premier provider of energy and maritime support services, is pleased to announce the addition of Zachary Malinoski.

Malinoski joins the company as manager of the Salvage Engineering and Naval Architecture Group.

“Zach is a very talented salvage engineer with a broad experience range. His addition will further bolster the expert salvage capabilities of the company,” said President and Chief Executive Officer W.A. “Beau” Bisso IV.

Malinoski graduated with honors from the U.S. Coast Guard Academy with a bachelor of science degree in Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering. He also obtained a master of science degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Ocean Engineering and Civic-Environmental Engineering.

Malinoski’s prior experience includes work as an engineer and deputy technical director for Sayres and Associates Corp. and Lockheed Martin. He also spent four years as a member of the Coast Guard’s Salvage Engineering Response Team, where he participated in salvage and emergency response operations in support of Coast Guard Sector Commanders.

Since 1890, BISSO MARINE has provided quality services to the marine and energy industries, offering marine construction, pipe laying, salvage, heavy lift and diving services. With offices and strategic alliances located across the Gulf Coast, South America, Europe and Asia, the BISSO MARINE fleet is uniquely positioned to provide a full range of maritime services and emergency response across the globe.
